A STATEMENT.

I, J. E. Campbell of the Campbell cafe in Jasper, returned to my dear wife after a four-months' visit in Seattle, Wash., and Canada, and the rumor that I and my wife had trouble and I had left my wife for good was a false alarm, as I had no intention of leaving my wife, but I knew she did not want to close business and go west, so young Sellers and I just went, and I did not intend to stay half as long as I did stay, but owing to the heavy snow storms throughout the western states it was impossible for me to drive the car back, but I am back now and I want the people to know that the rumors that's been reported in regard to me leaving my wife are positively untrue, and never again will I take a trip without wife. By J. E. Campbell.
